and get it done, and pour out of the works singing and laughing. In one factory near here, for nearly a year the women have never had a holiday. They won't take one. "What will our men at the front do if we go holiday-making?"

Socks for Our Soldiers.

The splendid work of turning out hundreds of pairs of machine-knitted socks a week for the men of our constantly increasing Army, which has been possible through the invaluable assistance of Mrs. Henry Huddleston Rogers, will not diminish with the coming of the warm weather. Early in the winter Mrs. Rogers started her work with three machines and now has twenty-three in operation, having Biddies in the Service.

There are now eighteen prominent members of the Biddle family of Philadelphia, to which Maj. Gen. John Biddle belongs, taking part in the war. All of them are descended from the William Biddle who came to the Delaware River colonies in 1681 from London, and soon after reaching the new world became one of the provincial councilors of New Jersey.

The list may well be topped by Maj. Gen. John Biddle, now assigned to the command of American forces in England. A graduate of West Point, he became superintendent there in 1916; brigadier general and major general in 1917. He was assistant chief of staff from September, 1917, until March 14, 1918.

Medical Director Clement Biddle, U. S. N., was chief medical officer with converted the entire lower floor of her residence into workrooms, which are filled with eager workers from morning until night. The workers of the cavalry, artillery and infantry branches of the Army Emergency Committee have been able greatly to increase their stock supplies through the use of these workrooms, which are at the disposal of each branch two afternoons a week. The rest of the time these machines are used by Mrs. Rogers' original group of workers, numbering about seventy-five. Last Friday 132 socks were made here, and on Saturday 350 pairs were shipped to meet an emergency call from the infantry. These machines will be in operation throughout the summer, and Mrs. Rogers has plans to manage this work on a much larger scale, not only here, but throughout the country where there may be groups of women wishing to undertake this work and give it the untiring support which it has received at Washington.

NAVY OFFICER AND BRIDE.

Capt. W. Pitt Scott, U. S. N., and Mrs. Scott, formerly Miss Rebecca Collier, whose marriage took place Monday.

Tea Dance for Officers.

The Catholic Women's Entertainment Committee, of which Mrs. William J. McGee is chairman, entertained at a tea dance yesterday afternoon at the Shoreham for a number of officers stationed at Washington and nearby. The chaperons, assisting Mrs. McGee, were Miss Margaret Col, Mrs. Charles Carroll Walcott, Mrs. Hannis Taylor, Mrs. Henry M. Ashurst, Capt. and Mrs. P. C. Fulmer, Miss Margaret Pepper and Mrs. Coughlin.

The young ladies who assisted in the entertainment of the guests were Miss de Pena, Miss Carlotta de Pena, Miss Elena Calderon, Miss Dorothy Woodson, Miss Isabel and Mildred Mettles, Misses Naomi and Louise O'Neil, Miss Vera Rocell, Miss Maxam, Miss June Dorch, Miss Eleanor O'Leary, Miss Joan Corby, Miss Ethel Brockman, Miss Helen Dyer, Miss Edna Dyer, Miss Chamberlain, Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, Miss Coronada, Miss Helen Little, Miss Helen Claxton, Miss Henrietta Berens, Miss Margaret Peckham, Miss Myrtle King, Miss Helen Chase, Miss Dorothy Berthoff, Misses Duval, Miss Toddy, Misses La Polette, Miss Dorothy Boucher, Miss Clark, Miss Elsie Joris, Miss Marie Enright, Miss Gibb, Miss Marie McGuire, Miss Elizabeth Koonen, Miss Marie Steight, Miss Anna Brown, Miss Eleanor Brown and a number of students from Trinity College.

Card Party for Medical Branch.

A card party for the benefit of the sock-knitting machines and wool fund of the medical branch of the Army Emergency Committee is being arranged by Mrs. J. Stanley Colter, the corresponding secretary, to be held on Saturday, April 27, at 3 o'clock at Beverly Court. Mrs. C. R. Darnall and Mrs. Edwin P. Wolfe are assisting Mrs. Colter with the arrangements.

French Class for Beginners.

That the "Thursday French evenings for men in uniform" are proving most valuable for those going to France was attested by the large attendance last week of both officers and enlisted men. The lesson was conducted by Miss Stearns. Short addresses in French were given by M. Belanger of the French high commission and M. D'Ouett, both of whom were enthusiastically applauded. The singing of "The Marseillaise," refreshments and a social hour followed. On Thursday, April 25, a class for beginners will commence at 8 o'clock, to which all men in uniform are invited free.

On account of the many changes among the service men, there is a new class for beginners every Thursday evening, followed by instruction for the more advanced students.

Diploma for Cercle Français.

The fifth and last lecture in the course given by the French Circle of the Twentieth Century Club will be given Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in All Souls' Parish Hall, Dr. Montal of the French high commission will give an account of the work being accomplished in the Malson Famille and both officers and enlisted men are invited to attend. The circle the diploma of the Orphelinat des Armées, in recognition of the fund which will be given for the furnishing of a dormitory, that afternoon, to Mme. Bimont, the representative here of the Malson. A complete set of garments for the children in the dormitory will also be presented at this time. In response to a general request an additional French Admiral Walker on the Nicaragua canal survey, was assigned to the battleship Texas in July, 1898; took part in the fight with Cervera off Santiago; was fleet surgeon on the China station in 1905 and the Pacific station in 1907. He has the West Indian campaign medal with one bar.

Lieut. Col. David Harmony Biddle has a long and lustrous record with the Philippine Scouts and with the United States cavalry. He is a son of the late Brig. Gen. James Biddle and is now in France. Maj. Nicholas Biddle (also a son of the late Gen. James Biddle) is in charge of a very important branch of the work of the Signal Corps. Capt. Nicholas Biddle (son of Edward) is on the staff of Maj. Gen. John Biddle at Fort Hancock. Lieut. Alfred Biddle is on the staff of Maj. Gen. John Biddle in France. Winthrop Biddle, a seaman in the Navy, is in camp at Cape May.

The name of the late Julian Cornell Biddle should be included in this roll of honor. An aviator in the Escadrille Lafayette, he was killed August 19, 1917, by falling with his airplane into the North sea off the Belgian coast. He is buried at Egmont-au-Zee, Holland.

Capt. Charles J. Biddle is an aviator in France. Last week he brought down a German biplane on the Flanders coast.

Capt. Henry Wilmerding Biddle is at Camp Upton. Lieut. Edward M. Biddle is in the ordnance department.

Erasmus Biddle, the class of 1885, William Shepherd Biddle, as captain, was military attaché in Berlin for three years before the outbreak of the war.

Spencer K. Biddle, Jr., a Yale alumnus, is a member of the Signal Corps. Thomas Montgomery Biddle, a sergeant, is at Camp Lee. Anthony J. Draxel Biddle, the president of the famous Bible classes, is a captain in the marines, and was recently stationed at Quantico, Virginia.

His son, Anthony J. Draxel Biddle, Jr., is on the staff of Brig. Gen. Grover C. S. A., now stationed at Fort Monroe. Alexander W. Biddle, a lieutenant in the artillery, is at Camp Meade.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eches Fendall were among those entertaining dinner parties at Quantico Thursday evening preceding the musical comedy staged by the enlisted men of the Marine Corps. Their honor guests were Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of Quantico, and Mrs. Lejeune. Among their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Galt, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Shepherd, Mrs. George H. Shibley, Mrs. Luman E. Morgan, Mrs. George A. Lewis and Miss Margaret Cannon. Mrs. Elva May Butler is hostess.

The Washington celebration of Gunston Hall day, on the afternoon of April 17, was an occasion of great interest to the seventy-six alumnae who attended, including the seventeen post-graduate classes of this year.

Miss Mary Archer Glass, the president of the alumnae association, was toastmistress, and after the following toasts, "Mrs. Mason and Our Alma Mater," "Gunston Hall's Immediate Opportunity," "The Spirit of 1918," "The New Members," "Our Allies," the "Marseillaise," "God Save the King" and "The Star Spangled Banner" were sung and a vote taken to invest all alumnae funds in liberty bonds, and to urge every old girl to report to the school her full measure of war relief.

Col. and Mrs. Stanley Colter have as their guest the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Alfred Miller of Philadelphia.

The liberty dance will be held at the Dewey Hotel, 1330 L street northwest, Saturday evening, April 27. The patronesses are William K. Carr, Mrs. George H. Shibley, Mrs. Luman E. Morgan, Mrs. George A. Lewis and Miss Margaret Cannon. Mrs. Elva May Butler is hostess.

Dowling—Chapman.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Ada Littleton Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Chapman of Martinsburg, W. Va., and George B. Dowling, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Dowling of this city, took place at the nurses' home of George Washington University Hospital, 1016

15th street northwest, Monday, April 15, at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter A. Morgan and was unique in that it was the first wedding in the history of the nurses' home, and that the bride was permitted to remain and finish her course, graduating in June. Miss Mary Glascock, superintendent of the nurses' home, permitted this exception to the regulations, and through Miss Glascock's efforts the house was put into gala attire for the ceremony, being beautifully decorated with flowers, and draped with United States flags.

The ceremony took place before an improvised altar, beneath a floral canopy. The bride wore a blue traveling suit with a corsage of sweet peas and lilacs. She was attended by Miss Jane Waters as maid of honor, wearing a blue tulle dress and carrying roses. Mr. Harry W. Dowling, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Miss Margaret McFerran played the wedding march. Among the guests were the members of the 1918 class, of which the bride is a member, and a number of relatives and friends of both the bride and bridegroom.

Smith—Warner.

The wedding of Miss Josephine Warner, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seiden G. Warner of Orange, N. J., and Lieut. Edwin Smith, Jr., of Rockville, Md., took place at St. Michael's Church, New York city, on April 13. The Rev. Dr. John P. Peters, former pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony. Only the members of the bride's immediate family were present. After the ceremony the young couple departed for Washington, D. C., where Lieut. Smith is stationed.

Mrs. C. T. M. Cutcheon of 3541 13th street left for Atlantic City yesterday, after a stay of two weeks at the Strand and will visit Mrs. Byron Cutcheon of Long Branch, N. J.

The "over there" dance, to be given Friday, May 10, at the Lafayette Hotel, under the auspices of the Stonewall Jackson Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, for the benefit of the American Military Hospital, No. 1, in Neuilly, France, promises to be one of the most brilliant as well as successful benefits of the season.

Representative E. T. Taylor of Colorado will make the presentations to the receiving line, comprising wives of members of the cabinet and the Senate and others prominent in the social world.

Col. Robert E. Lee is in charge of the floor committee.
